

TWO DAYS TRANSITION TRAINING ON ISO/IEC 17025 LABORATORY MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS

Aug 23 – 24, 2018

FICCI, New Delhi

Dear Colleague,

The latest version of ISO/IEC 17025 Laboratory Management Systems i.e. ISO/IEC 17025:2017 has been launched recently. The new structure is aligned with other existing ISO/IEC conformity standards and introduced concept of risk based thinking, performance based evaluation and emphasizes importance of process approach. The latest version expects laboratories to identify and address the Risk & Opportunities that could influence the performance of their laboratories. It also brings greater flexibility in the requirements of procedures, processes, documented information and organizational responsibility in comparison to the last version.

Considering above changes FICCI is pleased to announce two days transition training with main focus on following:

- Overview of Major changes (ISO 17025:2005 v/s ISO 17025:2017)
- Introduction to new concepts
 - PDCA process with Risk/Opportunities identification and mitigation
 - Verification and Validity
 - Decision Rules
 - Principle of Impartiality
- Resource Requirements
- Process Requirements
- Management Systems Requirements
- Implementation Issues and Challenges

The program is scheduled on Aug 23 – 24, 2018 at FICCI, New Delhi.
